Biography

Allen Page represents plaintiffs and defendants in trial and appellate litigation across industries and case types. Combining exceptional writing and arguing abilities, expertise in Georgia and federal civil procedure, out-of-the-box strategic thinking, and a consultant's mind for case management, he has helped clients navigate the complexities of dealing with lawsuits in Georgia and federal courts.

Before joining the firm, Allen served as a law clerk to the Honorable Richard W. Story in the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Georgia.

- Litigated and favorably settled a financial services company's claims against a former owner for violating an asset purchase agreement and covenants not to compete.
- Obtained a class action settlement on behalf of a class of doctors against a hospital that violated their employment agreements.
- Achieved a favorable outcome after taking over mid-case for a national company embroiled in a trademark dispute in the fast-moving legal cannabis market.

- Litigated and favorably settled complex negligence claims of patient plaintiffs who developed surgical infections due to a hospital's improper sterilization of its surgical instruments.
- Obtained favorable settlements for victims of sexual abuse against organizations that employed their abusers.
- Represented a state party in successfully challenging the election certification process changes before the 2024 General Election.
- Appointed by the federal court to represent an indigent, incarcerated, homeless individual in false arrest and excessive force §1983 civil rights claims against a county police department and its officers.
